So many artists, so little time. Each week we review a handful of new albums

(of all genres), round up

even more new music that we'd call "indie,"

and talk about what metal is coming out

. We post music

news, track premieres, and more

all

day. We update a playlist weekly.

of some of our current favorite tracks. Here's a daily roundup with a bunch of interesting, newly released songs in one place.

SHANNON & THE CLAMS – “ALL MY CRYIN’”

From their upcoming album Year Of The Spider

, Shannon & The Clams dabble in disco on their new single “All My Cryin’.” The video, directed by Ryan Daniel Browne, twists expectations that might have you wincing before it reveals what’s really going on. Well done.

UNKNOWN MORTAL ORCHESTRA – “THAT LIFE”

“I saw this painting by Hieronymus Bosch called The Garden of Earthly Delights and in the painting there was a mixture of crazy stuff going on, representing heaven, earth, and hell,”

MOTORISTS – “VAINGLORIOUS”

Canadian band Motorists channel late-'70s British punk/pub rock/power pop on their new single “Vainglorious,” which is off their upcoming debut album. The video also takes its cue from the era, paying tribute German television live music series Beat Club.

MORLY – “ELIOGY”
