

LIVE

Beat Change • Dazy

Playlist Donate ≡ Menu

New Music Reviews (7/6)

ALBUM REVIEWS

07/06/2026

KEXP

Each week, Music Director Chris Sanley and Associate Music Director Alex Ruder share brief insights on new and upcoming releases for KEXP's rotation. These reviews help our DJs decide on what they want to play. See what we added this week below (and on our Charts page), including new releases from Ibeyi, Margo Price, proun, and more.

Subscribe to our New Music Tuesday newsletter to have these dropped in your inbox weekly: www.kexp.org/new.

LIVE

Beat Change • Dazy

Playlist Donate ≡ Menu

compelling peaks and valleys, moving fluidly between intimate reflection and moments of grandiose release. –CS

Ibeyi - Offerings (Official Music Video)

Ibeyi

Watch on

Margo Price - Days Of Unrest (Loma Vista / Concord)

Nashville-based singer-songwriter and disrupter Margo Price returns with a surprise mixtape of protest music, with a portion of proceeds from the vinyl edition benefiting the Florence Immigrant & Refugee Rights Project (FIRRP). Featuring guest appearances from Memphis Mariachi, Joan Baez, and Billy Swan, alongside powerful interpretations of songs by Woody Guthrie, Bob Dylan, Blaze Foley, Charlie Daniels, and the traditional Mexican folk song “De Colores,” Days Of Unrest is a touching tribute to the communities and causes near and dear to Price’s heart. –CS

Days Of Unrest

by Margo Price

buy share

2. De Colores

00:00 / 02:31

LIVE

Beat Change • Dazy

Playlist Donate Menu

Maybe Luck

by proun

buy share

3. Miracles

00:00 / 03:27

44go - D1 (self-released)

The debut EP from this Seattle band is a solid set of '90s-influenced alternative rock that carries the shadowy swagger of breakout UK bands of that era alongside a fuzzy, gritty, grungy streak soaked in the PNW's seminal, seismic stamp on the decade. —AR

D1

by 44go

buy share

4. mockstarr

00:00 / 04:30

Andrew Sa - American Rough (Bloodshot)

The debut album from Chicago-based singer-songwriter Andrew Sa is a timeless slice of endearing cosmic country. Led by his bittersweet croon, American Rough tiptoes the line between traditional Americana and contemporary alt-country, with lush arrangements of strings, horns, guitars, pedal steel, and drums that welcome listeners into his warmhearted storytelling exploring themes of queer love, masculinity, and connection. —CS

American Rough

by Andrew Sa feat. H.C. McEntire

buy share

3. Andrew Sa feat. H.C. McEntire — Lavender Cowboy

00:00 / 03:13

Dari Bay - Surprise Wish (Double Double Whammy)

Dari Bay is a project spearheaded by Burlington, Vermont-based musician Zachary James, a versatile artist who's worked closely with Unknown Mortal Orchestra, Robber Robber, Lily Seabird, and Greg Freeman. His second Dari Bay album is a promising set of shimmery, fuzzy, kaleidoscopic indie rock inflected with slacker rock, psych-pop, grunge, and power-pop styles. The early single "We're Gonna Be Okay" is an awesome entry point. —AR

LIVE

Beat Change • Dazy

Playlist Donate Menu

Fuses - Sawdust in the Transmission (Having Fun Records)

Transatlantic duo Fuses, composed of Gothenburg-based drummer and bassist Moa-Linn Rosenlöf and NYC-based guitarist Craig Fahner, arrive with their exceptional debut album. Sawdust in the Transmission is a transportive set of folk rock, alt-country, and Americana, honoring the traditions of the '60s while putting a contemporary spin on these familiar soundscapes. With colorful storytelling, breathtaking vocal harmonies, and richly textured arrangements, these eight tracks make for a stellar introduction. —CS

Sawdust in the Transmission buy share

by Fuses

7. Aniline

00:00 / 03:24

Myra Lee - Capture the Flag (self-released)

The debut album from this NYC trio fronted by Tahlia Amanson is an impressive set of sweeping, brooding, arty indie rock with post-rock and chamber-rock flourishes. Formerly operating under the name Dino Expedition, the band's new namesake comes from Cat Power's 1996 sophomore album title and they reference Yo La Tengo, Sonic Youth, Electrelane, and Pavement as inspirations, and there's indeed a refreshing late '90s/early '00s indie-meets-underground vision to their evocative, expressive, dynamic, and unhurried songs. —AR

Capture The Flag buy share

by Myra Lee

1. Corkscrew Drawers

00:00 / 05:54

Pearl & The Oysters - Monkey Mind (Stones Throw)

The sixth studio album from LA-based French duo Pearl & The Oysters is a vibrant set of kaleidoscopic art-pop. With sparkling synths, bouncy basslines, fluttering flute, and saccharine vocals, Monkey Mind encapsulates their dreamy, blissed-out sonic universe. —CS

LIVE

Beat Change • Dazy

Playlist Donate Menu

R. Missing - Turning Off Lights Is My Destiny (Terminal Echo)

The latest album from this NYC project composed of vocalist Sharon Shy and musician/producer Henry "Toppo" Frost is a solid set of icy synth-pop, atmospheric darkwave, and dreamy trip-hop distinguished by Sharon's airy, ethereal vocals and Frost's old-school synths and hypnotic beats. —AR

	Turning Off Lights Is My Destiny by R. Missing	buy share
	1. Turning Off Lights Is My Destiny	00:00 / 03:18

Tasha - You Are Spring! (Bayonet)

Chicago-based singer-songwriter Tasha has a way of making her listeners feel like they can breathe deeply again. Through sweet, tender, and intimate lyricism, she welcomes you into her world built from delicate, acoustic guitar-driven arrangements with ornate flourishes of keys, clarinet, flute, strings, and percussion. Co-produced with her frequent collaborator Gregory Uhlmann, You Are Spring!, her fourth studio album, is a rich, warm collection filled with vivid imagery and a whole lot of heart. —CS

	You Are Spring! by Tasha	buy share
	9. Special	00:00 / 04:36

Temples - BLISS (V2)

The fifth album from this British band is a bold and bombarding set of synth-heavy technicolor dance-rock that filters their widescreen neo-psychedelia template through a big-room dancefloor-minded electronica prism. —AR

Sorry, this track or album is not available.